INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Mr. Donald Weldon
Weldon Securities Co.
Saratoga, California

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Weldon Securities Co. (a proprietorship) as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the related statements of income and proprietor's capital and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the owner. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by the owner, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Weldon Securities Co. as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on pages 8 - 9 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2003 and 2002

NOTE A - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Business

Weldon Securities Co. ("Company"), a proprietorship, is a securities broker. The Company sells mutual funds, exclusively, and serves a small community in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Operations

The financial statements have been prepared solely from the accounts of the Company and do not include the personal accounts of the owner or those of any other operation in which he is engaged.

Basis of Accounting

The Company's financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Revenues are recognized in the period in which they become due. Expenses are recognized in the period in which the related liability is incurred.

Income Taxes

The Company is not a taxable entity for purposes of federal and state income taxes. Federal and state income taxes of the proprietor are computed on his total income from all sources. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes is made in these statements.

Pervasiveness of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Reserve Investment

The Reserve Investment is an available-for-sale equity security that is publicly traded and as such is reported at fair market value, based on the closing price on the public exchange. Unrealized gains and losses are accordingly included on the statements of income.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2003 and 2002

NOTE A - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Furniture and Equipment

Furniture and equipment are reported at cost. Depreciation of furniture and equipment was computed using the straight-line method. The furniture and equipment are fully depreciated and there is no depreciation provided for in these financial statements.

NOTE B - CASH AND EQUIVALENTS

Cash and equivalents at December 31, 2003 was all unrestricted cash. Cash and equivalents at December 31, 2002 consisted of unrestricted cash and money market accounts and are presented as a consolidated number on this financial statement. The Company did not have an intent to invest the funds in longer term investments at either year end.

NOTE C - NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. The Company had net capital of $23,250 and $21,854, respectively, at December 31, 2003 and 2002,. The Company had no aggregate indebtedness at December 31, 2003 and 2002.

NOTE D - RESTATEMENT OF PRIOR YEAR INCOME

Certain expenses related to the operation of the Company are paid directly by the proprietor, most notably but not limited to occupancy, automotive expense, and promotion. Items paid outside of the Company for the benefit of Company operations have not been included in prior year statements.

These expenses have been included in the current year, and the prior year presented herein has been restated to be in compliance with the Expense-Sharing Agreement letter from the Securities and Exchange Commission Division of Market Regulation dated July 11, 2003. The expenses, totaling $8,435, have been netted to the withdrawals and, as such, the restatement has no effect on net assets as previously reported.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY S.E.C. RULE 17a-5

Mr. Donald Weldon
Weldon Securities Co.
Saratoga, California

In planning and performing our audits of the financial statements and supplementary information of Weldon Securities Co., for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3 (a) (11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2003 and 2002 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the owner, the National Association of Securities Dealers, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in the regulation of registered brokers and dealers and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
